

BULLET HOLES mar plate glass windows at Woodums, as Jimmy Woodum shows where bullets entered the agency after going through windows of a new car parked outside.

Three windows had bullet holes through them, and the bullets gouged holes in the walls inside. The sheriff's department is investigating the shooting.

Shooting Spree Damages Windows, Car At Woodums

Milam County Sheriff's Department is investigating shooting early Saturday morning when plate glass windows and a new car were damaged by bullets fired apparently at random.

Three 38 calibre bullets were recovered from Woodum's Company in Cameron that had been shot through plate glass windows, leaving holes in the glass. One of the bullets went through two windows on a brand new car that was at the side of the agency, and another bullet apparently scored the vinyl top of the car.

The sheriff is also investigating a bullet hole found in the back window of the Moody home in the 300 block of North Houston.

The sheriff speculated that the bullet could have been fired at the same time Woodum's windows were shot Saturday.

Library Amnesty Week

Beginning October 8 through 13 will be Library Amnesty Week and all overdue books returned to the library will be fine free. Persons with books way overdue are urged to take advantage of this chance to return the books without paying a fine.

City To Purchase Downtown Property

A move to purchase more property across from city hall was made at a regular meeting of the council Tuesday evening, one item on a short agenda.

The city received an offer from Marvin Ethridge for the purchase of Lots 5 and 7 across from city hall, and the council moved to purchase the property. The city is now in the process of buying the property adjoining on the east side of the block.

In other business, the three councilmen at the meeting granted a request from the Milam County Young Farmers and Ranchers to use Ledbetter Park arena for a tractor pull on October 20.

Edwin Bigbee reported on the need for new street signs, and the council was asked to authorize bids for purchase of 216 new signs as an initial purchase for main arteries. He said a survey showed that a total of 579 signs are needed. Cost of the signs will be split between urban renewal and revenue sharing funds.

A request for a special permit for placing a mobile home was tabled pending notification of residents in the area where the home would be placed.

A delegation of three residents appeared and asked about paving for

17th Street

Mayor Gene Blake addressed the department heads and asked that each evaluate his department and come up with proposals to improve services to the city.

The mayor said he receives numerous complaints. "We need to take a look at ourselves to see what needs to be done," he said. More personnel should be hired if needed for street maintenance, trash pickup, and garbage.

The mayor stated that the police department should have a system to put it on a "good business basis."

He added that the whole city system needed "revitalizing," and the job was big. He also said a system is needed to categorize complaints at city hall for better handling.

Also discussed at the meeting was a pension plan for volunteer firemen which will cost $5 each a year.

And finally, three certificates of deposit were renewed for 90 days in the amounts of $10,250, $19,945, and $10,000.

Fire Guts Home; Clothing Sought For Mother, Son

A fire at 12:30 a.m. Sunday gutted a home in the 1400 block of 14th Street, burning furniture and possessions. No one was in the house at the time of the fire, according to Cameron volunteer firemen.

Clothing for a young mother and her 15-month-old son is being sought by the firemen's ladies auxiliary, and also a high chair and baby bed, which were destroyed in the fire.

Mrs. Peggy McCay and her infant son lived in the house, which was a rented one. She is now staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Allie Wright at 1307 North Crockett, phone 697-2234.

A sad note to the fire was added when new boots for the youngster were found to be burned, shriveled, and stuck together.

Mrs. McCay wears size 12 clothes and 6 1/2 shoe. The baby can wear 12 to 18 months clothes.

Drive Set For Local United Fund

The local United Fund executive committee has set the first week in November as the starting date for the annual drive in Cameron. Budget for United Fund this year is set at $9,000.

L. W. Stroup, Jr., chairman for the drive, said this budget is up over last year's with two new agencies added, the Cameron Day Care Center and the Council on Alcoholism.

Agencies benefitting from the drive in Cameron will include Day Care Center $100; Boy Scouts $2,000; Red Cross $2,075; Girl Scouts $900; Salvation Army $2,075; Little League $600; Cameron Community Center $100; USO $100; and Central Texas Council of Alcoholism $150.

A business drive will be held the first week in November to contact local businesses, and a house to house drive will be held the following week, Stroup said.

SALVATION ARMY

(This is the first in a series of stories about United Fund agencies. Hundreds of people, local and transients, were helped by the Salvation Army in Cameron last year, receiving emergency aid.

This past summer, several local boys attended Camp Hoblitzelle, a Salvation Army facility at Midlothian near Dallas. They enjoyed a week-long outing at the modern camp free of charge.

Local services are carried out directly by the Service Unit Committee which represents the Salvation Army in smaller cities. Help is also available from the state level of the Salvation Army.

Forrest Sapp is chairman of the local Service Unit, which includes representatives from local churches, the county welfare department and local law enforcement officials.

Of funds allocated, one-third remains with the Service Unit for its local welfare program and two-thirds

Nominations Open For ASC Election

Milam County farmers may now nominate candidates for 1974 ASC community committees. Each petition must be signed by at least three qualified ASC voters and be filed at the county ASCS office by October 29.

The petition can be on any sheet of paper, as long as it includes a statement that the farmer has agreed to serve as a committeeman if elected. A farmer may sign as many petitions as he wishes.

When nominations close on October 29, if fewer than six nominations have been made, each ASC community committee now in office will add the appropriate number of names so that each ballot will contain at least six nominees.

Details are available at the local ASCS office.

are reserved for the Salvation Army's broad statewide services in which the local community is entitled to share.

Depending upon the immediate need, the local Service Unit will pay for groceries, lodgings, utility bills, rent, or minor medical or dental expenses.

The Service Unit has provided furniture for families whose homes were destroyed by fire, paid bus fares or bought gas for stranded transients, along with food. Other help included buying school supplies for children whose families were having financial problems.

State Salvation Army services are available for problems that cannot be handled by the local committee alone. A community struck by a tornado or flood, for example, would need the statewide help of the Salvation Army to get effective relief.

There are private matters also that are best handled through inquiry from the Service Unit to the Army's state headquarters. Seeking a missing person or contacting a prisoner up for parole are functions of the Correctional Services and Missing Persons Bureau.

Rehabilitating alcoholics is the life work of the Men's Social Service Centers and the Harbor Light Center.

One of the Army's finest programs is the care given to unwed mothers at the Home and Hospital in San Antonio. Young victims of personal tragedy are helped physically and mentally to return to society with a new, improved outlook on life.

4-H Youth Mark National Week

4-H youth and their volunteer adult leaders throughout Milam County, Texas, and the nation are "Getting It All Together" as they observe National 4-H Week, October 7-13.

"Traditionally, since 1927, National 4-H Week has been a time for 4-H'ers, their leaders and friends to take stock of the year's accomplishments and achievements," says Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "4-H Week has been a time to look to the future and nation."

"4-H Gets It All Together" is the theme of this year's observance and in countless ways, 4-H has "gotten it together" by involving more young people between the ages of 5 and 19 than ever before. Latest available figures show over 400 young people in Milam County participate in 4-H annually. They are part of the 146,000 youth in 4-H in Texas and some 5.5 million young people across the nation.

4-H groups exist in nearly every U. S. county and in about 85 countries around the world.

Begun after the turn of the century as an educational program for rural youth, 4-H today brings together both rural and urban boys and girls of all racial, economic and social backgrounds.

The 4-H program is designed to appeal to young people whether they live on a farm, in the suburbs or in the city. And through individual and group efforts they learn about the world around them, other people customs, and lifestyles -- like and different from their own.

4-H'ers in Milam County participate in a variety of activities and carry a variety of projects. Project work can range from horses, beef projects to gardening, clothing foods and nutrition and entomology. 4-H'ers also participate in pet projects, money management, electricity, conservation, home environment and child care.

4-H activities include project fairs livestock shows, camps, leadership labs, natural resource camps, county County 4-H Banquets, District Citizenship Days, Exchange Trips to other counties and states, Texas 4-H Congress, Co., District, and State 4-H Dress Revues, Co., District, and State 4-H Food shows, District 4-H Council, 4-H Princess Contest, County Pecan Show, and County Christmas parties as well as National 4-H Club Week Activities and County Citizenship Day Tours.

And that's what the theme "4-H Gets It All Together" is all about. It's about young people of different backgrounds getting to know each other and interacting and working together to solve mutual problems, such as energy, fuel, and electric, conservation; improving health habits and standards; protecting our cultural efficiency.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H, through its county Extension agents, works closely with the youth of the state in providing an exciting and challenging 4-H program. And dedicated volunteer adult leaders, nearly 135 in Milam County and 14,000 in the State, give of their time and efforts to "Make the Best Better" in 4-H.

With F.M.L.

It's United Fund time again, and we note that the North Milam fund is seeking $9,000 for nine agencies listed in an adjacent story.

There's hardly anything new about the United Fund approach to giving or getting funds for various community service organizations.

What is news is what happens when a United Fund does not function and each organization goes for its own money.

This happened in the early 1960s in Cameron and it was a case of fund drive workers going through a turnstile of drives, one after another until most of the organizations, and not all of them, were assisted. We suggest that the United Fund is the most satisfactory for participating organization, fund workers and public donors to help.

In larger areas, the total of agencies participating may be reach 50 to 100. And if individual drives resulted, there would be someone asking for money about every other day.

Cameronite Saves Life

An Angleton man is giving thanks for the thoughtfulness of an Alvin resident, formerly of Cameron, during an emergency on West Bay in the Gulf of Mexico.

D. O. Cooksey Jr. of Angleton was shrimping in a small aluminum boat last weekend when a sudden squall whipped up waves which swamped his craft.

Sometime earlier in the day John Matula of Alvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Matula of Cameron, who was also shrimping in the area, had noticed Cooksey's boat.

When the squall struck, Matula realized that the craft he had seen could not possibly stay afloat in such rough water, and began looking for it.

By the time Matula had located Cooksey's craft, the ed with water and flipp and Cooksey was hanging to the motor, and peering through the blinding rain-- with faint hope of rescue.

"He acted as though he hadn't done anything special," Cooksey said, "But I do appreciate it."

The North Milam Fund has only nine participating, two more than a year ago.

The Scout groups, Salvation Army, Red Cross and all the others need local support. And the United Fund is one good way to help.

The Yoemen head for Hearne Friday night for non-conference test with a good Hearne team. The Eagles are probably "up" for the game because it is homecoming there.

Cameron played one of the best defensive games last week against Rosebud-Lott they've played in several years. Time and again one line-man or another, like Zarosky, DeLa-Rosa or Mueck, would make the key play to stall the R-L power.

Hearne has a good club this year, having won over Waco High School among others. It should be a good game.

Chili Supper To Benefit Center

A chili supper will be held at the Methodist Fellowship Hall in Cameron on Friday, October 12, from 5 to 7 p.m. before the Cameron-Lampasas football game.

Proceeds of the chili supper will be used for the operation of the Cameron Day Care Center.

Chili, crackers, tea or coffee will be served. Tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12. Pie or cake will also be available for an extra charge.

The public (and especially football fans on their way to the game) is given a special invitation and are urged to attend. Tickets are available from members of the Board of Directors of the Day Care Center or they may be purchased at the door.

National Newspaper Week is coming up next week. As a preamble, we here run "The Journalist's Creed" postulated for Missouri's School of Journalism by its founder Walter Williams, who later was president of the University itself.

What we are, what your Herald is, what this area is becoming draws from these words, cliched as they have become since they were written, laughed at as they will be by people afraid of themselves and fearful of most everything after that.

We like, particularly, the ending.

Dean William's creed:

"I believe in the profession of journalism.

"I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of a lesser service than the public service is a betrayal of this trust.

"I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy, and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

"I believe that a journalist should write only what he holds in his heart to be true.

"I believe that suppression of news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

"I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another; that individual responsibility may not escape by pleading another's instructions or another's dividends.

"I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interests of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

"I believe that the journalism which succeeds best -- and best deserves success -- fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive; tolerant but never careless, self-controlled, aptient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid; is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance, and as far as a low and honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can be, is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting good will and cementing world comradeship; is a journalism of humanity, of and for today's world.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

FARMERS WON THE FOOD PRICE BATTLE

Rep. Charles A. Vanik (Ohio) "... This month's issue of the FARM JOURNAL contains an article by the magazine's managing editor, Dick Braun ... which contains statements which could be of particular interest to millions of American consumers and taxpayers who have been subjected to unprecedented food price increases ..."

YOU WON THE BATTLE OVER FOOD PRICES

(By Dick Braun)
It's hard to believe, but just a few short months ago housewives carrying boycott signs lined up around supermarkets to drive down the price of meat. (It didn't work). This month they were lining up again--this time jostling each other to grab the last pieces remaining in the beef cases. After all the frenzied protests, price was suddenly unimportant as many over-bought to build a "meat cushion" in their freezers.

Food at bargain-basement prices had finally gone the way of the $800 automobile, the $2 shirt and the 5c cigar.

TV networks and newspapers showed; broiler growers killing chicks that would lose money; producers sending piggy sows to market; cattle feeders holding cattle because ceiling prices would mean a loss; others selling to Japan and Canada because they paid more money; packing plants closing down and laying off workers. When all that happened, the old custom of taking food for granted evaporated like dry ice on the Sahara desert.

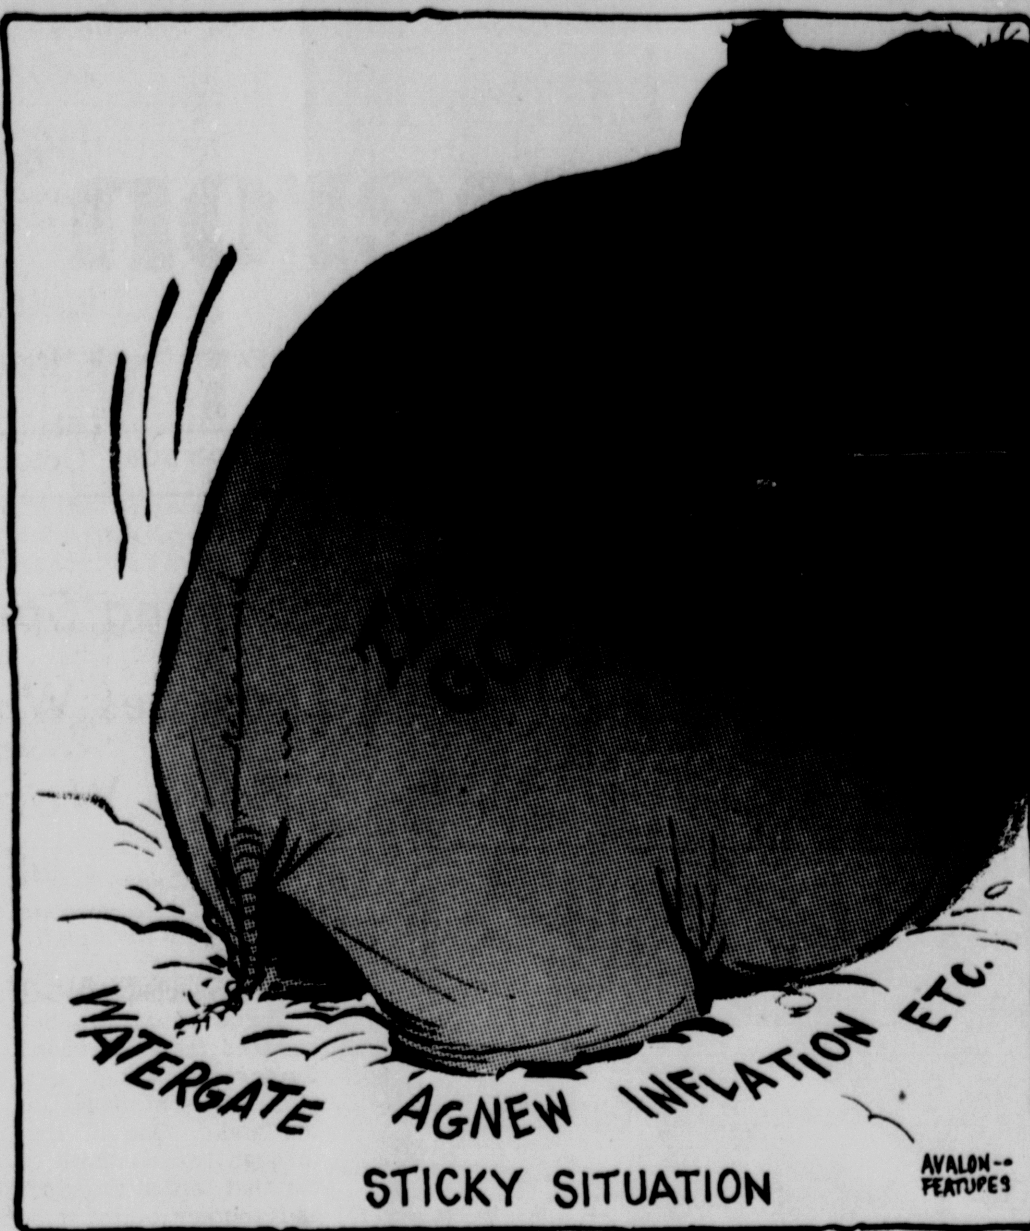

Consumers got the message. They could forsee even worse meat shortages if prices were not allowed to rise above the cost of production.

It seems likely, as we go to press that the giant tidal wave for price controls on food has moved back to sea, washing with it the advocates of price controls on food. And while there will be more efforts, such as export controls, to hold down your prices, you've won the battle of the price freeze.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Picketing and boycotting an automobile manufacturer is one thing, doing the same to food producers is something else, as consumers have learned.

No Right-To-Work Law Planned For Constitution

By Bill Boykin

"There'll be no 'right-to-work' law in the proposed new Texas constitution," predicted Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Bill Hartman, Beaumont Enterprise-Journal, at a meeting of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association last week.

Answering a question from a newspaperman at the summer meeting of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association in Guadalajara, Mexico, Hobby and Hartman said the Texas Constitutional Revision Commission will not have "right-to-work" in the proposed constitution which will be submitted to the legislature in November. Hartman is a member of the commission.

"It will be impossible for 'right-to-work' advocates to get the two-thirds vote necessary to get it back in the constitution at next year's Texas Constitutional Convention," Hobby added.

The convention -- beginning in January -- will be writing a new constitution to present to Texas voters in 1974.

Hobby also told the Texas publishers that the most important change for the commission and Concon is reorganization of the executive branch. "Texas state government now spends $5 billion a year with no one in charge," he concluded. "Under our present constitution we have the weakest 'office of governor' in the nation."

SPECIAL SESSION URGED
Atty. Gen. John Hill has joined in the demand that Gov. Dolph Briscoe call a special legislative session on a wide range of child welfare matters and school finance laws revision.

Briscoe, who heard of the recommendation while attending the Southern Governors Conference in Alabama, said he has not changed his mind about need for a special session at this time. He made clear that means he doesn't intend to call one.

Hill also released his report on licensing of Artesia Hall, the East Texas child care facility which was closed last summer after reports of serious mistreatment and even a murder charge there. While he, in effect, said W. Kendall Baker of Houston, a former State Welfare Board chairman, and House Speaker Price Daniel Jr., did nothing wrong in serving as attorneys for the Artesia Hall owner, the attorney general advised a law curbing legal practice before state boards by former members. He also suggested restrictions on legislator's practicing before state agencies.

Hill concluded there were no improper payments or inducements to get Illinois children placed in Texas child care institutions by that state's welfare officials.

The attorney general conceded, however, that there appeared to be a certain amount of "winning and dining" of the Illinois officials.

He criticized hiring out of Texas Welfare Department employees parttime to private child care facilities. The Welfare Board, meanwhile, voted to fire its former director of social services, who had been on the payroll of private institutions.

YOUTH COUNCIL

Leadership of the Texas Youth Council was shaken up in the wake of recent "semi-riots" at Gatesville Boys School and a court finding that discipline is too harsh at several state institutions for youth.

Dr. James A. Turman resigned as TYC executive director, a post he has held since 1957, and Robert Kneebone quit as chairman.

The Board named W. Forrest Smith of Dallas as new chairman of TYC and Ron Jackson, 33, of Brownwood as acting executive director.

Smith told the House Committee on Human Resources TYC "needs a little settling time and a little of the pressure taken off" before it can move toward new goals. Smith said the council will comply fully with the rulings of Federal District Judge William Wayne Justice at Tyler that it end certain disciplinary practices used against youth school inmates.

NEW GAS RATES
The Railroad Commission granted Lo-Vaca Gathering Company, which sells natural gas to many Texas cities, a fluctuating interim rate of about 29.55 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas.

The increase is five cents above the present weighted average cost of gas to the company as of last June.

A commission order also provides that the weighted average cost of gas be adjusted up or down each month to reflect the current cost Lo-Vaca is paying.

Lo-Vaca sought an interim rate of 34.9 cents per mcf. The commission said the interim rate was designed to allow the company to purchase gas and recoup operating, but that it does not provide a rate of return on investment. Granting the temporary rate may prevent or mitigate gas shortages to the public during winter heating months, the Commission order said.

COURTS SPEAK

A Dallas man sentenced to death for murder during armed robbery won a reversal of his conviction in the Court of Criminal Appeals on grounds his arrest was not based on sufficient information and conflicted with court-set standards.

Dear editor:

It's not a world-shaking problem but as you know, Congress has now passed a law allowing the televising of home games in professional football if the game is a sell-out 72 hours before it starts, and as I understand it the owners of the teams aren't happy about it.

They say that even if all the tickets are sold, if the day turns off wet and cold a lot of fans will stay warm and dry at home and watch the game on television, thus cutting down on parking lot fees, hotdog sales, etc., not to mention the dispiriting effect a half-empty stadium has on the players.

There's a remedy for this. Put seat belts in all the seats in the stadium. Rig them up somewhat like the new cars. If the belt isn't fastened, your television set at home won't start, it just emits a continuous buzzing sound.

The stadium thus will be filled, either by the ticketholders or somebody hired to sit in for them, and what difference can it make to the players if they're being cheered or booed by somebody who paid to get in or was hired?

On this law, as with lots of laws, Congress either went too far or didn't go far enough.

Speaking of these new car seat belts that make that awful nagging buzzing sound and won't let your car start until they're fastened, I was just thinking, how could the west ever have been won, how would the cattle ever have been herded, how would a stampede ever have been stopped, if, when a cowboy leaped into his saddle, his horse wouldn't start till both feet were in the stirrups?

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

The Family Lawyer

How much is a housewife worth in dollars and cents? This unsentimental question comes up every day in our courtrooms. Whenever a housewife has died in an accident and her family is seeking damages, some amount must stand for her dollar value--what the family has lost because of her death.

In most cases, the key issue is how much it would cost to hire a substitute housekeeper to do approximately the same work as long as necessary. Sometimes the work is broken down into the separate functions that the deceased has been performing.

For example, an award may be based on such items (per week) as 10 hours of services as a cook, 2 hours of services as a waitress, 7 hours of services as a laundress, 10 hours of services as a babysitter, 2 hours of services as a bookkeeper.

Of course, there are endless variables. Suppose, for instance, that the deceased was exceptionally capable in her domestic chores. Does the law allow compensation also for the "society, care, and attention" she gave to her husband and children? Some courts do, on the theory that these too are "services" with a price.

Other courts, however, don't go that far, saying such benefits are too intangible to be measured in money.

Furthermore, factors that may be plus in one situation may be minus in another. In one case an award of $75,000 was held too high, largely because the woman had functioned at a below-average level in family matters. She had been on unfriendly terms with her husband, and, because of her own frailties, had played only a minor role in the upbringing of their children.

Yoe Seeks Fourth Win, Battles Hearne Friday

The Cameron Yoemen will be looking for their fourth victory of the season as they battle the Hearne Eagles Friday night in Eagles stadium.

This will be the Yoemen's last non-district game, and they will open district play next week in Cameron against the Lampasas Badgers.

However, head coach Ed Cauley and the Cameron Yoemen are concerned only with securing a victory over a strong determined Eagle ball club this week.

Hearne, who tied Cameron last year 0-0, have 7 offensive and 5 defensive holdovers from last years team. Among them are quarterback David DeStefano, fullback Earl Johnson, and halfback Freddie Owens.

During Hearne's 38 - 20 victory over Waco High, Johnson's fine speed aided him in gaining 102 yards rushing, and DeStefano hit six of eight passes for two touch downs.

The Yoemen could very well match the Eagles offensive strength with their own backfield consisting of George Whiteside, Willie Bell and Jafus White.

Another plus for the Yoemen will be a strong defense which held the powerful Rosebud-Lott offense to only one touchdown during Cameron's 14-8 victory.

Both teams could use a victory before entering district play, and both teams have had a winning season so far this year. The game will start at 8 p.m. in Hearne.

Thursday night the junior varsity and freshmen will play in Cameron and the 7th and 8th grade will play in Hearne.

No Sandbagging In Speedway Race

Current USAC Stock Car Champion, Burch Hartman, says he does not expect to see anyone sandbagging in the stock car portion of the USAC Twin 200's.

Hartman, who recently captured his third consecutive National Driving Title, said that he thinks the 200 miler scheduled for Saturday, October 6th at Texas World Speedway will be the most competitive USAC stock car race of the year.

"The pressure of having to finish for points is over since the championship has been decided and the stock car half of the USAC Twin 200's offers one of the largest purses in our division," said Hartman.

England 'Visited' By Pleasure - Profit Club

The Cameron Public Library was the setting, London the destination Thursday as the Pleasure and Profit Club members were magically transported to "Jolly Old England" under the expert guidance of Mrs. Flirsh Ermis and her daughter, Debbie, who have recently returned from a tour there.

nim pants, shirt, vest, belt, ensemble.

Mrs. Ermis circulated brochures, cards, coins, newspapers, and other publications as she orally revisited all the points of interest. Interesting insights were offered as she answered questions regarding food, money, rapid transit system, pollution, climate, and other inquiries from the members.

Mrs. E. J. Burkes was hostess and program chairman for the afternoon.

Tyler Prepares For 36th Rose Festival

The bloom is on the rose, say Tylerites, as the time draws near for the staging of the 36th annual Texas Rose Festival, October 18-21.

Abundance of rainfall has given the bushes strong growth and billions of colorful blooms.

Dr. Eldon Lyle, rose expert, and Joel Phillips, the rose grower who provides the Festival with hundreds of thousands of blooms, have started touring the deep, sandy roads in a score of rose fields to select the one of choice blooms to be on display for rose tours at Festival time.

The city's rose garden, the nation's largest with 38,000 bushes in 385 varieties, is donning its best dress for the thousands of visitors expected.

Carpenters will soon begin installing a glamorous

Rose Show to be called "Re-naisance of the Rose." The visitor will view vast arbors covered with climbing roses, flowing streams fed by animated waterfalls, pavilion and other features.

Featured will be this years "All-American Oscar" roses.

Texas' foremost float builder, Freeman Decorating Company of San Antonio, has already designed the 13 floats of the Queens' section of the big parade at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 20, and begun to pre-fabricate float decorations.

Forty-eight gorgeous gowns, costing upwards of $50,000 have been designed for the Queen and her court, and are nearing completion at dressmakers in Tyler and New Orleans.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN For the first 122 years of Texas' statehood, our laws "protected" women when they were involved in property contracts.

One law required that when a married couple prepared to sign a deed or similar property contract, the woman had to be taken into a separate room "privily and apart from her husband," and asked to swear that her spouse had not "coerced" her into signing.

By the time we reached the middle of this century, however, it was obvious that many women not only held "the pursestrings" for their families, but were contributing significantly to family incomes.

Organizations of women, fessional clubs began lobbying for liberalizing the laws relating to women's property rights, and by 1968, the "privily" swearing and many other statutory hindrances to the economic rights of women were wiped from our Texas law books.

In a subsequent session, the Legislature erased many more discriminatory references in the state laws, and this year -- 1973, the lawmakers went a step further.

Through passage of a bill by Rep. Sahar Weddington of Austin and Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado, the lawmakers er Credit Code to prohibit the denial of credit and loans on the basis of sex.

The new law relates to credit transactions involving interest charges of more ment loans by banks savings and loan institutions consumer finance companies automobile dealers and secondary mortgage lending firms; most revolving charge accounts, and most credit card accounts.

The types of complaints which had led the legislators to write the bill included charges that issuers of credit cards, such as oil companies, had refused credit to single women, and that some lenders had required mature single women to get male relatives to co-sign, even though the women had substantial salaries.

The sex-discrimination ban provides that a person is entitled to establish credit in her own name, rather than having to make loans and revolving charge accounts in her spouse's name.

If someone believes he or she has encountered a violation of the law, two avenues of action would be open: 1) A complaint could be lodged with the Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner, or 2) the consumer could file a

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Food-borne disease epidemics caused by unsanitary conditions don't happen too often, despite the millions of meals served weekly by Texas restaurants, but when an outbreak occurs it can be costly to an establishment and its patrons.

Suffering from a variety of intestinal ailments may strike the unlucky food poisoning victim, while the restaurant may face economic loss because of bad publicity.

Suffering from a variety of intestinal ailments may strike the unlucky food poisoning victim, while the restaurant may face economic loss because of bad publicity. The Texas State Department of Health and local health units, through inspection of food establishments and training of employees in proper food handling techniques, has a big interest in the restaurant industry.

Two years ago the teaching of food hygiene by the Health Department's Public Health Education Division took a new approach. In the past, instruction throughout the state had been given directly to food handlers, cafe and restaurant owners by a specialist from the Austin office.

Now, courses in "Teaching Food Hygiene" are given for health department sanitarians, food and drug representatives, and others to equip them to teach food handling courses at the local level. When a local inspector observes improper food handling, he can schedule his own clinic for personnel in one restaurant or a group of restaurants.

The local inspector can count on the support of some $15,000 worth of training films on various phases of food hygiene available from the Health Department's Film Library. In addition, there is a comprehensive teaching outline and a wide selection of printed materials.

Food handlers in all parts of Texas may receive the training which will better equip them to serve the eating-out public with correct food handling techniques.

As a case in point, the Food and Drug Division of the Health Department's Region 10 has initiated a food sanitation program designed to better prepare local health departments to conduct their own programs. It focuses on the nature and causes of food-borne diseases and the proper sanitation methods needed to combat those diseases.

The program, aimed at both local health department officials and restaurant personnel, is based on a three-phase plan.

TSTA Urges Support For Amendment No. 1

AUSTIN — The Texas State Teachers Association is urging its 157,000 members to vote for passage of constitutional Amendment No. 1 on Nov. 6.

Amendment No. 1, if approved by a majority of Texas voters, would authorize annual sessions of the Legislature and a pay raise for its members, from the present $4,800 per year to a constitutional limit of $15,000 per year.

TSTA support for the amendment was recommended by its legislative committee and approved by its executive committee, governing body of elected representatives from the 20 TSTA district organizations.

L. P. Sturgeon, executive secretary, noted that TSTA has a long record of support for past proposals for legislative pay raises. "Texas should have full service from its lawmakers, and these men and women should have reasonable pay for their work. Their present pay does not permit them to work without financial sacrifice."

Under Amendment No. 1, legislators would be required to work longer. The legislative sessions in odd-numbered years would be increased from 140 to 180 days and a 60-day session would be added in even-numbered years for budget making.

These for TSTA's campaign for support of the amendment is: "Annual sessions plus adequate salaries equal responsible Texas government. Vote for Amendment 1 on Tuesday, November 6."

The 35-year-old legislator who represents District 36 composed of Falls, Milam and Williamson counties was a teacher and coach in the public schools of Vernon and Cypress-Fairbanks before moving back to Rockdale. LS Gas Announces Gas Buy

Lone Star Gas Company today announced agreements with several West Texas producers to purchase approximately 70% of the gas reserves underlying a six-section drilling unit in the Warwink area of Ward County, Texas.

The field discovery well, the University 10-18 Well No. 1 located on one of the sections in the unit, flowed at rates of 33 and 6.5 million cubic feet per day respectively from the Fusselman and Ellenburger formations.

Lone Star Gas Supply Vice President, George Loch, termed the discovery "a potentially major discovery". Proved gas reserves in the University 10-18 well, under contract to Lone Star as a result of these agreements, are estimated to exceed 50 billion cubic feet. Initial takes from the well are scheduled to begin by November 15, 1973.

The first development well, the University 9-18 is now drilling on an adjacent section of the unit.

Construction has already begun on a sulphur plant in the field and a 30-mile, 18-inch pipeline into the Warwink area, with a total cost estimated at $5.6 million. The pipeline will connect the discovery area with Lone Star's recently completed 36-inch, 400-mile pipeline from Pecos Country to the hub of the company's utility operations near Dallas-Fort Worth.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Round Bale Demonstration
Set Oct. 6 At Rockdale

By Bill McCutchen

Bob Orr of Rt. 2, Rockdale, has asked me to invite everyone who is interested to attend a "round bale" harvesting and handling demonstration at his home, Saturday afternoon, October 6 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Bob will demonstrate the "Vermeer" baler which is one of the relatively new innovations in hay harvesting.

Beef Cattle Short Course
A Beef Cattle Short Course

se for Milam County producers has been set for October 8, 15, 18 and 23.

The October 8 meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. at the Yoe High Ag Building.

Dr. Dennis Ward will be in charge of the October 8 program and will be speaking on beef cattle nutrition including winter supplemental feeding.

Dr. Herd is one of the best I have ever heard in this area and I would encourage you to make plans to attend.

SWC Election Set

A Director's election is set for Wednesday, October 10 at 7 p.m. in the Rockdale High School Ag Building. The election is for director of Subdivision No. 5 of the Taylor Soil and Water Conservation District No. 513. This Subdivision includes Gause, Milano, Rockdale and Thorndale areas.

All persons holding a title to farm or ranch lands within this Subdivision who are 22 years old and reside in the county are eligible to vote in this election.

Winter Pastures
High feed costs have stimulated new interest in winter pastures, with a recognition that such pastures can supply high-quality nutrients cheaper than other sources.

The key to success in producing winter pastures are certain management practices, such as early planting, high rates of fertilization and adequate amounts of good-quality seed. While early planting offers a target for insect pests, the advantages of getting seed in the ground quickly far outweighs this threat.

An adequate rate of balanced fertilizer at planting tends to promote deep root systems, early growth and high-quality forage. One or more side dress applications of nitrogen, made after forages have been grazed for a while, are usually needed for continued production.

Crop Contracting To Be Valuable Market Tool

Cotton producer organizations across the Belt emphasized the importance of crop contracting to the future of the industry at a meeting in Dallas.

In a joint statement issued following the meeting, several producer groups pointed out that under the new farm law forward contracting of cotton will become particularly valuable as a marketing tool.

"When producers forward contract, they are assured of a known price even if market prices drop below those specified in contracts. This practice enables producers to plan their year's operation more effectively both in acreage planted and income to be realized," the producer groups noted.

Under the practice, mer-

Riders Try For Prison Rodeo

HUNTSVILLE

It's one down and one to go at the pre-rodeo tryouts of the upcoming 42nd annual Texas Prison Rodeo.

E. H. (Hoot) Crawford, rodeo arena director, got his first look at returning veterans and new comers this past weekend at the first of two weekend tryout periods.

Fifty-eight hopefuls displayed their riding abilities -- or lack of it -- at the hour and a half tryout session.

Three newcomers to the rodeo prison caught the eye of Crawford. Thomas Horace, with a 10-year sentence from Groveton, emerged as the outstanding rookie with strong rides in bareback bronc and bull riding events.

Lonnie R. Williams, 15 years from Fort Worth, came close to equaling Horace's showing in bareback bronc and bull riding. Roger Stinson, three years from Seminole, rounded out the top trio of new riders that were impressive. Stinson, too, rode in the bareback bronc and riding go-rounds.

Robert Waldrup, five years from Orange, who finished fifth in overall individual winnings last season, displayed the ability he showed last season and has to be considered a top contender for the top-hand title in the upcoming October rodeos.

Harry Southerland, 25 years from Fort Worth, the defending champion with back-to-back titles in 1971-72 pitched off a bull in the only ride he attempted.

Tryouts will be held again this coming weekend with a new group of veterans and newcomers -- and then it'll be Crawford's task to select some 40-45 riders from a group of more than 100.

Regular rodeo action gets underway on Sunday, October 7, with the traditional grand entry set for 2 p.m. Rodeos will be held each Sunday during October.

Ticket information can be received by writing to the Rodeo Ticket Office, Box 99, Huntsville, 77340.

Beef Cattle
Meetings
Planned

A Beef Cattle Short Course has been scheduled for Milam County beef cattle producers and will be conducted in the month of October.

The first meeting of the short course will be held in Cameron on October 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Yoe High School Vocational Agriculture Department. Dr. Dennis B. Herd, Beef Cattle Nutrition Specialist, will discuss Nutritional Problems of Beef Cattle including supplemental feeding in winter.

The second meeting of the short course will be held in Rockdale on October 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Rockdale State Bank Conference Room. L. A. Maddox, Beef Cattle Specialist, will discuss Beef Cattle Breeding and Management.

The third meeting of the short course will be held in Cameron on October 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom at the Courthouse. Dr. John Beverly, Animal Reproduction Specialist, will discuss Animal Reproduction Problems. Also in this meeting, Dr. James Armstrong, Extension Veterinarian, will discuss Animal Health Problems.

The fourth and final meeting of the short course will be held in Rockdale on October 23 at 7:30 p.m. in Rockdale State Bank Conference Room. Dr. J. Neal Pratt, Pasture Specialist, will discuss Forage Production and Management Problems. Don Parks, Area Management Specialist, will discuss Ranch Management and the future outlook for the cattle industry.

All Milam County beef cattle producers and other interested individuals are invited to attend the above meeting.

HOW TO BUY

How to buy is just as important as what you buy. A monthly supply of cereal for a family of five may range from $2.20 -- for cereal to be cooked -- to $9.49, for individual packages, notes Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

More For Your Money . . . Turkey Breeders Plan Increases . . . Milk Production Declines . . . Cattle, Calf, Sheep Sales Above Year Ago.

When you visit the State Fair of Texas at Dallas this year, be sure and visit the Food and Fiber Pavilion. There, you will be able to find out how to get the most out of your food dollar.

The Texas Department of Agriculture will again be in charge of the Pavilion this year for the fourth consecutive year. Almost 1,000,000 persons annually have visited the Pavilion in the past three years. It is expected the number of visitors this year will exceed 1,000,000.

On display will be ways the consumer can get the most for the food dollar. Cooking demonstrations will be given to show how to prepare food on a cost per serving basis. Recipes will also be available to help you prepare economical yet tasty dishes.

In addition to Texas food products on display you can see a variety of ways in which you can use Texas-produced fibers, too.

A number of private companies and commodity organizations will have displays as well.

TURKEY production should show some good increases in the coming year, according to figures released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Texas turkey breeders' intentions to market as of Sept. 1 increased 26 per cent from the January 1973 inventory for all breeds.

Turkey breeder flock owners in the 26 major turkey-producing states report at the beginning of the 1974 hatching season they expected to keep 15 per cent more breeder hens than the previous year. Flock owners also expect to increase heavy breed flocks by 15 per cent and plan to increase light breeds 18 per cent.

A word of caution, however: these are intentions only and can change due to feed, supply and price of hatching eggs and poults as well as prices received for turkeys during the next few months.

MILK production in Texas during August is one per cent below the 1972 production and three per cent less than the previous month's production. Nationwide, milk production is four per cent less than a year earlier.

One of the reasons for the decline in production can be seen in the milk-feed price ratio. It was down 34 per cent from a year ago and is the lowest since August 1947. Last year's ratio was the highest since 1968, pointing up the increased costs of production for dairy producers.

During August, the number of milk cows nationwide dropped three per cent. Some dairy groups are warning that a definite shortage of milk will be felt by the consumers as early as November.

SALES of cattle, calves, and sheep in Texas were above levels of a year earlier while sales of goats and hogs declined.

Cattle marketed through auction in the state were 33 per cent above a year ago and calves 52 per cent more than a year ago.

Sheep sales were up 49 per cent above a year ago and 64 per cent above a month ago.

Hog sales were six per cent below a year ago, but 18 per cent above a month ago. Goat sales were 17 per cent below last year, but more than double those of last month.

Meat Consumption Drops,
Alternatives Star On Menu

Due to higher prices, consumers have been buying less expensive cuts of meat -- and less meat in general. Instead they're purchasing more meat alternatives.

"As a result, our present meat consumption (per capita) is running fully 10 per cent below 1972 -- at the lowest level in nearly seven years," according to consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Texas A&M University System.

However, this week finds meat counters mostly full with a wide variety of cuts to select from, she added.

"In general, look for best beef buys on chuck roasts and steaks, round steaks, ground beef and liver.

"Fresh pork, on the other hand, is in greater supply and usually a good value. Boston butt roast, shoulder and rib chops, shoulder steaks, quarter-loins sliced and small picnics are featured in some markets."

The specialist noted that fryer chickens usually present bargains when purchased whole and cut up at home.

"Egg supplies continue ample with prices lower than a couple of weeks ago. Watch for more medium-size eggs in stores."

"Salad lovers will have no problem building a meal in one these days," Mrs. Clyatt said.

"Combine lettuce and other greens, celery, green peppers, radishes, onions, and tomatoes. Add cold cuts, cheese strips, hard cooked eggs or cooked fish for protein.

"Salads of this type offer protein dollars."

Vegetables in good supply at the most economical prices include head lettuce, celery, collards, mustard carrots, tomatoes, green peppers, squash, dry yellow onions, cucumbers, potatoes sweet potatoes and rutabagas.

"This week also finds several varieties of grapes in good supply and the first of a large cranberry crop on their way to market," the specialist said.

"Plums, prunes, bananas, nectarines, pears, oranges, grapes, cantaloupes and watermelon s offer the best fresh fruit buys."

"Peaches, however, are about gone for the season," she added.

TESGUINO IMPORTANT

Tesguino, a beer made from sprouted corn, is important to the Tarahumara people of northern Mexico. The shaman uses it when blessing people, animals, fields, or the harvest. When someone needs a big job done, like wedding a field, he invites friends to drink the beverage; they do the work and receive tesguino in return. National Geographic reports in its new book, "Primitive Worlds."

FOOD,
GOOD TIMES
...OCTOBERFEST

The Oktoberfest was originally begun as a great Bavarian folk festival in Munich, Germany. It was the chief event of the folk festivals and was celebrated for a full fortnight in the fall - late September or October. The festival featured parades, amusement rides, floats, costume balls, much fun and laughter, and lots of good eating and drinking. A "Gemutlichkeit Spirit" of comradeship and affection abounded as the people celebrated a bountiful harvest. In our own country, county and state fairs are patterned in somewhat the same fashion. Fairs celebrate the harvest season, good food, parades, amusement rides, and lots of fun and time for visiting friends. German foods are hearty, colorful and satisfying. One delightful feature is the use of sweet and sour flavorings and marinades. The full-bodied, robust flavor of German foods is really "home cooking" at its best.
